

JOSEPH L. HENRY ORAL HEALTH FELLOWSHIP IN MINORITY HEALTH POLICY

At Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Dental Medicine – Boston: An academic degree-granting program beginning July 2023. The Joseph L. Henry Oral Health Fellowship program prepares the next generation of leaders in minority health, health policy and oral epidemiology to improve the capacity of health care and to address the health needs of vulnerable populations.

Requirements:

- Participate in fellowship activities including leadership forums, seminar series, site visits, journal club, practicum and receive mentoring from senior faculty and health leaders.
- Complete the course work leading to a MPH degree from the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. For those with a prior MPH, complete course work leading to a MPA degree from the Harvard Kennedy School.

Qualifications:

- DDS or DMD degree and an active dental license required
- Minimum of 2 – 3 years experience in dental practice or completion of residency
- Experience with addressing and improving health needs of minority, disadvantaged and vulnerable populations
- Interest in minority health, health policy and public health
- U.S. citizenship or U.S. permanent residency

Benefits:

- Financial support for Master's degree tuition
- Travel for professional meetings and site visits

Application Deadline: December 1, 2022

Contact: Program Coordinator, Joseph Henry Oral Health Fellowship
Harvard Medical School
164 Longwood Ave. 2nd floor
Boston, MA 02115
Phone: 617-432-2922
mfdp_cff@hms.harvard.edu

For more information, please visit: https://dicp.hms.harvard.edu/oral_health

Individuals from groups historically underrepresented in oral health and women are encouraged to apply