

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the Faculty Fellowships offered by the Harvard Medical School Office for Diversity Inclusion and Community Partnership (DICP) and the Harvard Catalyst Program for Diversity and Inclusion (PFDI). This document provides an overview of each fellowship program and the application requirements. Please review the program description, eligibility criteria, and application instructions below before beginning your online application.

Office for Diversity Inclusion and Community Partnership (DICP) Faculty Fellowship

A two-year, non-degree Faculty Fellowship Program for Harvard Medical School (HMS) junior faculty that enables fellows to pursue activities that enhance their development as researchers and clinicians/teachers, leads to their advancement within the Harvard system, and promotes diversity within the HMS community. The Program provides two years of fellowship support in the amount of $50,000 per year in order to provide release time from clinical work to conduct an individual, mentored research project, participate in Fellowship-related activities, meet regularly with mentors, and present research findings at the annual Minority Health Policy Meeting.

DICP Faculty Fellowship Eligibility

- Doctoral degree (e.g. MD, PhD, DO, DMD, DDS)
- Harvard Medical School appointment at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor
- Applications will also be considered from clinical or research fellows who are in the process of appointment/promotion to instructor and/or assistant professor at Harvard Medical School. (The letter from the department head/division chief should indicate the promotion status.)

Harvard Catalyst Program for Diversity Inclusion Faculty Fellowship

The Harvard Catalyst Program for Diversity Inclusion Faculty Fellowship is a two-year, non-degree Faculty Fellowship Program for Harvard junior faculty designed to address faculty need for additional support to conduct clinical/translational research and to free junior faculty from clinical and teaching demands at a key point in their career development. Each Faculty Fellow will receive $100,000 over a two-year period to support their scholarly efforts. Faculty Fellows are required to devote an appropriate time toward the development of their research and academic career, to meet regularly with their mentors, and to present at the annual Minority Health Policy Meeting. For more information about Harvard Catalyst see: <http://catalyst.harvard.edu/>

Harvard Catalyst PFDI Faculty Fellowship Eligibility

- Doctoral degree (e.g. MD, PhD, DO, DMD, DDS, ScD).
- Harvard appointment at the level of instructor or assistant professor. Applications will also be considered from clinical or research fellows who are in the process of appointment/promotion to instructor and/or assistant professor at Harvard. (The letter from the department head/division chief should indicate the promotion status.)
- U.S. Citizenship or Permanent Residency

Letters of Recommendation Instructions

Each of your recommenders will receive the following instructions to write their letters of support.

Letters of support from the Department Head/Division Chief must include the following:

- Commitment to continue to support this individual in their career development over time.
- Potential role this individual will play in the department/division over time.
- Statement explaining how the funds ($50K per year) will alter the Faculty Fellow's activities, impact career goals and indicate the percentage of time that will be protected as a result of this Faculty Fellowship.
- Agreement to meet with this individual bi-annually for career planning meetings.

Letters of support from the Mentor must include the following:

- Your relationship with the applicant.
- Description of the project.
- Commitment to mentor and support the Faculty Fellow for a minimum of the two-year fellowship period.
- Potential role this individual will play in the department/division over time.

Please note: If your Department Head/Division Chief is also serving as your Mentor, they can submit one letter of recommendation. The letter should indicate that they serve both roles. Also, it is imperative that the letter address all the requirements listed under both the “department head/division chief” and “mentor” categories.

HMS Diversity and Inclusion Faculty Fellowship FAQs

1. Can a non-U.S. citizen OR a non-permanent resident apply for the fellowships?

- a. U.S. citizenship or permanent residency is NOT required for the DICP Fellowship
- b. U.S. citizenship or permanent residency IS required for the PFDI Fellowship

2. How do I know to which fellowship I should apply?

If the applicant meets all eligibility requirements for both fellowships, they can apply for both opportunities, though the award will be made in only one category. The Harvard Catalyst PFDI fellowship is specific to clinical and/or translational research. If applicant is unsure whether his/her research falls within this category, we suggest that the applicant speak with his/her mentor to determine the best opportunity.

3. If my department head or division chief is also my mentor, will one letter of recommendation be sufficient?

Yes. However, it is imperative that the recommender indicate in the letter that he/she serves both roles. Also, it is imperative that the letter address all the requirements listed under both the “department head/division chief” and “mentor” categories.

4. If I have two mentors for my project, may I submit letters of recommendation from both of them, in addition to the letter from the department head/division chief?

Yes, submitting letters of recommendation from two mentors in addition to the letter of recommendation from the department head/division chief is fine.

5. What is covered in the Fellowship award?

The award is for salary and research support for the awardee (fellow) only. Indirect costs are not supported by this award.

6. If the applicant is eligible for both opportunities, can an application be submitted for both fellowships?

Yes. Please ensure you check the appropriate boxes on the application.

7. Does the applicant need to submit proof that he/she is being promoted from clinical/research fellow to instructor?

The letter from the department head/division chief should indicate the promotion status.

8. If the applicant has been an instructor or assistant professor for over 10 years, does this mean that he/she is no longer at the junior faculty level, and therefore not eligible to apply?

An instructor or assistant professor, regardless of his/her years of appointment, is considered junior faculty, and, therefore, is eligible to apply.

9. Is the doctoral eligibility requirement specific to certain degrees?

Degree requirements are: MD, or PhD, DO, DMD, DDS, and ScD. There may be other doctoral degrees that are included as well.

10. Can a non-minority junior faculty apply for these opportunities?

Yes.

11. Does the applicant’s research need to focus on diversity or health disparities?

No.

12. If the applicant is a finalist for a Harvard Catalyst Pilot Grant, can he/she still apply for the fellowship?

Yes.

13. If the applicant currently holds a “K”, “R”, or “T” award, is he/she eligible to apply for the fellowships?

To ensure the applicant’s eligibility to apply for the Faculty Fellowship, he/she should review their award guidelines and restrictions before applying for DICP and/or PFDI fellowships.

14. How do I know if my work is categorized as clinical and/or translational research?

Discuss it with your mentor.

15. Are applicants conducting international research eligible to apply?

Yes.

16. What are the start dates for the Fellowships?

- a. The DICP Faculty Fellowship can begin as early as mid-February to July.
- b. The Harvard Catalyst PFDI Faculty Fellowship period is May 1 - April 30.
